ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first universities – Bologna, Paris and Oxford – were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word 'universitas' originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of this apprenticeship was celebrated by a 'commencement' marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the matter of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, students could be fined for cutting class or not taking notes, and candidates for master's degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times!

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an academic costume code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institutions. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor's gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctor's, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (BA., M.A.L.S.), gold (B.S., B.L.S.) or drab (M.B.A.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia, orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, cardinal and blue for the University of Pennsylvania.

FACULTY EMERITI

Faculty members who have served Mary Washington College for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of Professor or Associate Professor are eligible upon retirement for consideration for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon three distinguished members of the faculty.

SONJA DRAGOMANOVIC HAYDAR, Professor of Dance. A faculty member of the Department of Dramatic Arts and Dance since 1968, Mrs. Haydar helped develop the program of the traditional classical ballet at Mary Washington College. She originated the popular course in classical ballet variations, introduced the history of ballet into the dance major curriculum, and taught a course in ethnic dance of both Eastern and Western cultures. For the annual dance company concerts, Mrs. Haydar choreographed 18 original ballets covering a wide spectrum of classical, ethnic and contemporary themes.

Mrs. Haydar began her dance education at the Zagreb Opera in Yugoslavia. She graduated from the Master's School of Dance and the Conservatory of Music, Mozarteum in Salzburg. Her long professional career covered three stages of dance work — prima ballerina and choreographer for the Salzburg Opera and the State Opera of Dresden; ballet mistress for the National Ballet of Washington, D.C.; and dance education. An expert in classical ballet and its related art forms, Mrs. Haydar served on the panel of judges for the National Society of Arts and Letters ballet scholarships in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Haydar also lived and taught and researched dance in Asia and Africa. Professor Haydar plans to remain active in dance.

PATRICIA J. (PIERCE) HOLMES, Associate Professor of Mathematics. Professor Holmes came to Mary Washington College in 1966 after having taught at the University of Colorado, Oregon State University and New Haven College. During her 23 years here (including 17 summer sessions), she has taught a broad spectrum of mathematics courses. Her emphasis was in number theory and she developed, as well as taught, both the introductory and advanced number theory courses. She is a charter member of Kappa of Virginia, the Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Mary Washington College, and served as the chapter historian for several years. Professor Holmes is also a member of the national mathematics honor society, Pu Mu Epsilon.

ROSE MARY JOHNSON, Professor of Biological Sciences. Dr. Johnson has been a member of the Mary Washington College faculty for 27 years. Initially, she taught botany and comparative anatomy but spent most of her years teaching microbiology and general biology. She served as chairperson of the Department of Biology from 1970 until 1976. During 1971-1973 she helped administer a National Science Foundation COSIP Grant which involved biological research on the ecology of the Rappahannock River. She was adviser to the premedical technology club from 1965 until 1976 and, for ten years, career adviser to biology majors. Professor Johnson is a charter member and past president of the Greater Fredericksburg Kennel Club.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
